All Blood Conditions: Diagnosis, Education & Facilities

Africa is a continent with a shortage of haematologists, haematology support, advocacy and services. As the only dedicated Haematology Services NGO in Sub-Saharan Africa, the Igazi Foundation, lobbies Governments to improve existing blood services and facilities for patients, their families and health professionals. Born in the Eastern Cape, South Africa, in 2010, the Foundation has become internationally recognised as a champion for Haematology in the struggle for better health in Africa.

We are a volunteer organisation committed to making Haematology an important part of national health agendas. Recent initiatives include a Stem Cell unit, a Paediatric Haematology unit and a Nurses training centre, all in Nelson Mandela Bay, and a refurbished Chemotherapy room in Durban. Igazi's Continuing Professional Development (CPD) accredited modules are training Doctors and Nurses both live and online.

The Foundation is a member of the South African Presidential Health Summit Patient User Group in acknowledgement of their contribution to Blood Health on the continent.
